Samuel Osburn and William Goodlake, naval officers, were charged with disobedient conduct. The scene of the offence was Wallington Street, one of the householder in which objected to having her doors broken in. Police were called, and police men knocked down; sticks were used, and blows were struck in Court's hearing. Men taken from the defendants. After the defendants had been dragged or carried to the Police Station, terrible threats were launched against the latter. Defendants were perhaps a little worse for liquor but were not in uniform, and were released about one o'clock this morning on bail. The first defendant was discharged; but the other was ordered to pay $250 costs to one of the P. U.'s, $10 to the lady who got her doors smashed, and fined $20 besides.

SUMMARY JURISDICTION COURT.
Before the Hon. H. J. BALT.
Sept. 1 1894.

Tan Sang Chow v. Leonard Barnes, $92.28, for balance of account.—Defendant explained that a judgment had issued for the payment of this debt a me time ago; that he satisfied plaintiff with a promissory note, $26 of which he had since paid; and that plaintiff had not come for any more money since.—His Honor explained that a promissory note was not like any other debt, because you promised to pay; the holder is not obliged to go and ask for it.—Mr Barnes observed that he was charged with wages in the summons above mentioned; if he entered upon the question of costs, the question of interest at 12 per cent, since July 18-97, would also have to be considered. He thought the plaintiff had been very liberal in the matter.—Judgment for the plaintiff for amount claimed.

Liu Asee v. J. Kriznowitz, $10; Chum Ah Seng, $30; Sam, $1; and ewah, $2. Sums.—D Defendant is, or was, proprietor of a business of the El Dorado Tavern, and plaintiffs sued him for wages as servants. Judgment was given against defendant in such case.

G. W. Snelling (London Inn) v. W. Russell, $64.—Defendant in this case was brought down from Ghol in custody, on a writ of habeas corpus, on a copy, on a representation to the effect that his father-in-law had sent him to prison.—Defendant asked if he could pay the claim by instalments; which His Honor replied that Mr Russell's case was just that defendant was about to leave the Colony in his ship of which he was chief officer, and he did not suppose that he would therefore agree to payment by instalments. Judgment for plaintiff. Costs of suit current, was given, the Judge remarking that he could do nothing about the money; parties would have to arrange for it themselves.

Eufolcia Thomas v. E. Lund, $55.02, for board and lodging.—Plaintiff a pig breeder, defendant failed to do so. Judgment therefor went by default.

Abdool Oomah p. Minibus Berlin, $5.75, for balance of account for milk, bread, &c.—It appears that plaintiff has, in private, made a Cashmashy, and as he did not choose to join in the suit, Green was notified. As a curious feature in the case, plaintiff in June last Cashmashed summoned some defend int for an account-like expense amount as that now said for, and for the same kind of goods. This previous summons was dismissed, owing to non-attendance of both sides. Now, however, the case is over, and Green, now tried his own case, and Oomah said they must write in any summons as partners. Non-suit accordingly.

Chun Ahn v. P. M'Culloch, $53.25.—Defendant went by default, as defendant failed to appear.

Young Aloys T. Hart, $6.40, for wages as a servant.—Judgment for $6.40.

H. Offara v. J. F. Jordan, $40.85.—In this case being called, it was found to be without defence.

Mattinson v. J. Vandenberg, $20.—In this case, service was not satisfactorily produced.

THE NORTH.

We are in receipt of Shanghai files to the instant date. The following are the principal items:

(Accorded.)

A correspondent writing from Chin'wang Tsien dated 24th Aug. st., says—"My Alliance with H.B.M. Consulate, and Mr Sands of the 3rd Consulate at this port, have just returned from Yangchow, to which place I went in order to institute enquiries as to a most outrageous attack which has been committed upon the Rev. Mr Taylor, the Protestant Mission and his party. They have been unprovokedly seized and manacled; about eight or ten thousand men rose in a mass, broke into their houses and destroyed the whole of their property. The ladies belonging to the mission have all more or less suffered from ill-treatment and bruises, and the Rev. Mr Reid has eyes severely injured that there will be serious doubts of his ever recovering his sight. The Chinese mob set fire to his office; and they could not turn inmates out of it. They were driven into extreme danger, and many of them took such extremities that they were forced to throw the children from the upper windows, and the ladies were obliged to follow risk of their lives. One of them is now in a month of her confinement. The Government caused by the Literary Class, a great effort to the effect that the missionaries build up children to raise them from the difficulties of their position. Knowledge of the difficulties of the work is essential, and instead of taking steps to prevent a breach of the peace embroiled their indifference, it is not actually by connivance."

In this the same paper has the following sensible remarks:

"On Friday the other day, that we had heard of the atrocious attack made upon the Rev. Mr. Taylor by a Chinese mob upon our consular premises, and among numerous foreigners of the most beautiful women we have ever heard of. In the name of God, which is sacred, is it impossible that too will be allowed, by the disgraceful conduct of our authorities, to pass unpunished? When will they begin dimly to comprehend the nature of affairs (China), and to recognize that innocent punishment on the spot with such a criminal's life place is the only way in which they can get a stop to it. ever there was a man who was strong immediate action was called for. This is it. It is strange indeed if the nation who went to war because her flag trampled down from the loaths Armen, sit by calmly and not move a finger while a week to elapse without making any preparations to prevent a plot which would result in the burning Chinese women and children alive in their homes.

We are informed that the Chinese authorities are discussing the project of making a passage for water from Hungtan Lake into the Grand Canal so to complete the communication by the route, a portion of it being dry at certain seasons. The scheme is opposed in some directions, on the ground that it will be liable to lead to floods at times when the water level is high.

Among the cases of the cases of the Mixed Court, appears one of considerable interest as bearing upon the question of liability of Chinese societies. The Tribunal has recognized the position of Tsau-Pan, that ordinary taken by societies, making them liable for the contracts with respect to which they act in this capacity. The case will probably be appealed to the High Court, and we shall then have the opportunity of obtaining the Tsau-Pan dictum on the subject.

An accident occurred on Friday morning on board the U. S. S. Corvette Monocacy. In consequence of one of the ankers getting out of order a portion of the deck, including the foremast, was damaged by fire, and it was necessary to remove a portion of the planking to put it in order. The mail for Nagasaki which was to be taken by her was in consequence delayed, the officers being returned. She is to leave day after tomorrow.

We are informed that the men at the Chinese diggings whose shaft was filled with water by the order of the Taotai, were by no means incensed by the little accident, but intended to try and start at work again. They could easily earn $2.50 a day. It is stated that the Mandarin are fully aware of the large quantities of gold in the neighborhood, and with their old "Dog in the manger" policy are trying to stall foreigners out from mines which they do not themselves know how to work.

There has of late been a startling increase in the number of cargo-hoist robberies which have taken place in this port, and the public will do well to be on their guard against the recently manœuvres of the Chinese thieves. In one vessel, through the vigilance of the police, a system of piracy was discovered, which will land the owner a fine of $5,000, probably not less than the 400 or 500 in connection with this case. We have heard of some more ingenious tricks for robbing in line, and cases that have even been put in force. A case was taken and the bottom carefully lifted out. The whole of the tin lining was removed, and a hole cut out in the bottom at the top, through which the goods were abstracted. The case was then put together, and the goods of course sunk open at the bottom. It is appearing, however, on removing the wood, that the tin was unharmed, and was at first opened; but fortunately thorough investigation proved the nature of the fraud, and the case has been perverted.

There has been an unusual demonstration of Chinese police, in consequence of a Chinese woman, on her way to the Yangtze, falling into the water and succeeded in swimming the unfortunate woman when she was sinking a second time.

We regret to hear that an unfortunate Chinese girl, mysteriously removed from the German Consulate, was found dead in a state of insanity as she was being taken to the hospital. She was placed in a paddle cell at the Straits, and will of course be attended to as far as is possible. It is, however, much to be regretted that no suitable provision has been made for and cases of this nature.

The news of most interest locally is the fact that a man has been taken for the final time, and is now in the hands of the Chinese Insurance Company at a meeting, of which we give a report in our present number. The circumstance is generally held to be one to be regretted, as the business, although it suffered from some exceptional losses, seemed upon the whole a profitable one.

An attack has been made by some two or three men on the footing side of the policeman, who had been sent there to guard a protest. It appears that some robbery had taken place from a grov in settlement, and that an inhabitant of the village gave some information to the police as to tracing the theft to some of the living there. In consequence of this, they induced the Teapian to confine them in heavy chains, and the policeman, who went down in uniform to release him, was seized by half the population, and had to fire his pistol several times. Upon this the villagers ceased make further demonstration, and we are glad to hear that the affair is being thoroughly investigated. This is the first time that a European policeman has been attacked at this side.

KELUNG.

Mr. Kopsch, Acting Commissioner of Customs at Kelung, says:—The small chop of tea exported this quarter by Chinese to Macao via Hongkong, where it is loaded with Canton Tea. As the commerce of Tamsui Tea renders it unfit for the export of small, partly on account of its inferior quality, and partly on account of the fact that it has occurred in this tea, this Tea might be made into Brick Tea or the Siberian market. Brick Tea is made of the coarse leaves and upper portion of the Tea plant, and does not undergo the various processes of manipulation and dedication to which Black and Green Tea prepared for European consumption are subjected to, but, when in its original state, is moistened by a simple water, and then compressed into wooden moulds into the form of bricks of one's name."

One of an apparently simple process might probably be taught the natives, which, I fancy, would be cheaper to them than introducing skilled Tea workers from the mainland to prepare a commodity, which, if ever improved by careful cultivation or by the introduction of European plants, must necessarily take the form of a tea.

There is some reason to doubt whether the Koreans, Tea is too common

GOLD FISH CULTIVATION

The following interesting article is from the number of Notes and Qu

The belief mentioned by Darwin (in tion of Artibeus and Panda, de, vol.
236), to the effect that "all have kept in confinement from an ancient in China" is well-founded. All C works on natural history contain not

name is applied to several cypripetidae
principally to the cypripetidae carp

saying: "Of gold fish, there are t

of the two last named are the most dif

In the work entitled Wu Li Siao

century, and printed in 1664, a section

"The best (gold-fish) are the kin tsü, next in order come the ts'ü (鯽). For red insects (of a certain kind) descri

and feed the fish with them for 100
days they will change their color practically all silver like the fish

course of time become golden."

The author of the Wu Li Siao "in the following curious statement: "G
fish with triple and quintuple tails w duced by covering the spaw, not pro
with a large prawn—if there be no pr
the tails are of the common kind."

The Cyprinus called Ka Chü 草
Yüan, published in 1735, gives a multitu of pictures of fish, in this subject, the most i portant of which is a picture of a carp called Ssu Li K'uo 七伯類鯽. In this is stated that: "Since the year 1548 th
has been produced at Hangchow a vari
of kin tsü, called the fire-fish (火魚)
its intensely red colour. It is univers admired, and there is not a household wh
it is not cultivated, in rivalry, as to th

The same writer able, immediately after the above statement: "The ku-yu (gold fish) literature; and the Shu Fa (the opinion that the gold fish is the lake of the Liu Ho Pagoda. He is mei, in his poems entitled Liu Ho 六和塔詩, says: 'Learn to wait for the ku-yu to come to Shu Yang—go on fishing.' I know ku-yu 金魚 lies by the screen." Thus, the fish must have after the period of removing to a considerable length of time (A.D. 1129)."

The above-mentioned period of the removal of the writer quoting them probably, inasmuch as it is found in their poems; the gold fish must be thoroughly abundant by the middle 13th century. Shu Tze-mei was 1038, and died 1048: "Shu Tze-mei, aged sixty-six. It is the time that about the time of the Conquest of England, gold fish known in China."

It may be added, that the cult of fish appears to have been practised from a period of very high antiquity. A Chinese work, Shu Tze-mei 事類, published about A.D. 1000, quotes, in the passage about the Yang Yu King or Treatise on Fish-rearing (which has been mentioned elsewhere), the following: "The Chinese Emperor, who acquired the Yang Yu King by the Yang Yu, the Chinese Emperor, by which art he had accumulated much wealth. He replied that the methods of dealing with animals and of ornament of which was water culture, that is, the rearing of fish. He took six rows of ground into a pond, and divides therein with blocks of stone, and cultivated the same. The result was that he did not devour each other, and because they grew to a large size are much prized."

Although the statement regarding Li is doubtless a fable, it nevertheless indicates beyond doubt the rearing of fish in ponds, set apart from the Canton. W. F. M.

clerks, and other agents, and salary pensions are always rising, till they amount to £1,000,000, and the ex-

the united wages for officers and by analogy is not quite perfect, as the
